
TECHNICAL MEMORANDUM

To: Alex Liverman and Matt McClincy, Oregon Department of Environmental Quality
From: Ken Hickey, HydroAnalysis
Subject: Review of Draft Source Control Decision & No Further Action Determination for Brazil Motors and Controls, Inc., ECSI #1026
Date: February 18, 2016

This memo describes our review of the draft Source Control Decision (SCD) & No Further Action Determination for the Brazil Motors and Controls site. This review has been prepared on behalf of the Five Tribes¹. The draft SCD memorandum (dated January 29, 2016) was authored by Alex Liverman, State of Oregon Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ), Portland Harbor Stormwater Coordinator. The DEQ memo provided:

- An introduction and site description;
- Site and regulatory history; and
- A summary of site investigation, actions, and evaluations.

We have not reviewed original source materials. We have instead relied on the descriptions provided within the subject SCD memorandum.

Review Comments

The Brazil Motors and Controls site does not appear to be a major pollutant source and we agree with the proposed Source Control Decision and No Further Action determination. Further, we found that the DEQ memo provided a clear explanation of the site, the investigation, and the remedial actions. The memo also clearly described DEQ's rationale for reaching its conclusions.

¹ The Five Tribes comprises the Confederated Tribes of The Grand Ronde Community of Oregon, the Nez Perce Tribe, the Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians, the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation, and the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon.
